AUGUST 2020

Dear Member,

After the challenging time conducting our first ever digital General Assembly at the end of June, we have not leant back to enjoy the usually quiet summer at IOTA. We are diligently working on one of our main objectives, the digital transformation of our organisation. One of the major steps towards that is the IOTA Studio project. Scroll down for more information, get a glimpse of the ongoing work on the Secretariat office reconstruction and check out some engaging news from our members.

IOTA STUDIO under construction

Creating a fully equipped studio at the IOTA Secretariat to host digital events, webinars and many more, is one of our major projects of 2020. This new feature will enable us to meet our commitment to transform more and more of our services to digital and to apply the newest innovations for the benefit of our members. More insights about the IOTA Studio can be found in the link.

The digital transformation of IOTA services and operation is a part of strategic objectives incorporated into the reviewed IOTA Strategy for the 2020-2022 period. It is critical to provide IOTA members with high quality digital services not only content-wise but also user experience-wise. The IOTA Studio will enable us to interact with our members more frequently and in a reliable way utilising high quality and interactive digital environment installed directly in the IOTA Secretariat office.

The IOTA Studio will not only lead to more digital and more user friendly IOTA services but will also contribute to significant savings of operational costs with an calculated payback on investment within 2 years.

-František Imrecze
Executive Secretary
